Organ Prelude, Solo: In the Garden

Introduction

We gather together the strands of our hectic lives and offer each other, this day, a breathing space...

We come in our 21st century lives to retell stories from the past to glean the meaning of Jesus' life to be the Christ—the 'god bearers'—of our day.

Let us celebrate the richness and diversity of life.

Hymn: All Creatures of Our God and King

Opening Sentences

We are moved to awe and wonder at the grandeur,
the poetry, the richness of natural beauty.

All: It fills us with joy and thanksgiving.

And then all that has divided us will merge
and compassion will be wedded to power,

All: Softness and wonder will come to a world that is harsh and unkind

And then both men and women will be gentle;

All: both women and men will be strong.

And then no person will be subject to another's will
All will be rich and free and varied

All: And then the greed of some will give way to the needs of many

All will share equally in Earth's abundance

All: And then all will care for the sick and the weak and the old

All will nourish the young

All: And then all will cherish life's creatures

All will live in harmony with each other and the Earth

All: And then everywhere will be called Eden once again.

Let us pray:

God of the important and the common place,
you reach into our lives through story.

Open our hearts to be attentive:

that seeing, we may perceive,
and hearing, we may understand,
and understanding, we may act.

All: May it be so.

Hymn: Love Divine All Love's Excelling

Reading from our Religious Tradition

Reader: May we open ourselves to the seeds of wisdom that lies dormant in this reading.

All: And may our minds be fertile soil in which it may grow strong and true.

Luke 12:13-21 (Inclusive Text)

A man in the crowd said to Jesus,

'Teacher, tell my brother to give me a share of our inheritance.'

'My friend,' Jesus replied 'who appointed me your judge, or the arbitrator of your claims?'

Then Jesus said to them,

'Watch, and be on your guard against avarice of any kind,
for people's lives are not made secure by what they own,
even when they have more than they need.'

Then Jesus told them a parable:

'There was once a rich man who,

having a good harvest from his land, thought to himself,

"What am I to do? I have not enough room to store my crops."

Then that man said,

"This is what I will do: I will pull down my barns and build bigger ones, and store all my grain and my goods in them, and I will say to my soul:

My soul, you have plenty of good things laid by for many years to come;
take things easy, eat, drink, have a good time."

But God said to him,

"Fool! This very night the demand will be made for your soul;
and this hoard of yours, whose will it be then?"

So it is when people store up treasure for themselves in place of making themselves rich in the sight of God.

A Celebration of Faith

In response to the word reflected on, let us stand and share together a celebration of faith.

The people stand as they are able

In God, Source of Life

All: our deaths are not the final word,
our moments of crisis are part of eternal possibility,
and our weakness is taken up into the courage of God.

As followers of Jesus of the Way,

All: our humanness is touched with divine life,
our tears are mingled with longing love,
and our solidarity with those who suffer is joined by divine presence.

In the Spirit of Creativity,

All: there are no boundaries on the dream,
there is no end to hope,
and we will never live beyond the cherishing of God.

Offering & Offering Hymn: Be Thou My Vision

Reflections and Prayers

Let us pray:

Let each of us find a window

All: To see beyond our own enclosures.

Let each of us find a door

All: To open ourselves into new being.

Let us pray for ourselves, for those named or remembered, and in solidarity with those who have not the freedom to express their concern or celebration for fear of discrimination or condemnation.

In all our joys and in all our concerns, may we be ever mindful of the presentness of the sacred among us, and to see the new possibilities of the now.

All: God - heart of the world:
revealed through every aspect of creation:
understood through our awareness.
May we honour the holiness of creation and act accordingly so that your love is reflected in the way we live.

May we always be thankful for the food we eat and the friends we have.

May we forgive those who transgress against us and be forgiven for our own.

In the freedom of love may we live as your heartbeat and not be compromised by hesitation.

Through our freedom, may your justice be seen and heard and experienced forever and ever. - Sherri J Weinberg

Parting Words

Time has now come for us to leave this sacred place.

As we do, may we embrace the challenges of our lives and our world...

As we leave this place of worship and celebration:

may we remember that each day offers more things than we can do.

All: May we do what needs to be done,
postpone what does not,
and be at peace with what we can be and do.

Words of Blessing

And now may the blessings of life be upon us, and upon this congregation.

May the memories we gather here give us hope for the future.

May the love that we share bring strength and joy to our hearts, and the peace of this community be with us until we meet again.

All: Amen! May it be so!
