A warm all who have come to visit and worship in this historic Little White Church. Please remember to sign our guest book.

Greeters at the door today are Jean Pycock, Donald and Ron Yull.

Nos sincères remerciements à Marcel Lavallée pour fournir la musique.

The flowers are placed in the Church today are in loving memory of those who are no longer with us by the Yull family.

We are delighted to have authors Marcel Labelle and Jacynthe Yelle with us today to discuss their recent book entitled Saint-Chrysostome au pays des pionniers. Please join us after the service for refreshments and feel free to ask questions about the book. Copies will be available for purchase.

The offering is collected by Julia and Ryan Robinson, 6th generation of Gilmores to worship in this Church. We are delighted their parents could lead the service for us today.

The Russeltown Church and Cemetery Committee is dedicated to preserving this historical site and the memories of the people who have been associated with it through the years.

Donations may be sent to the attention of Jean Pycock at:

The annual meeting of the Committee was held Monday, July 2nd at the Yull's home. Financial appeals were launched to help fund the upcoming painting of the Church. If you have any thoughts or concerns to share, please speak with a committee member after the service.

Special Thanks ...

The Russeltown Church has received the promise of money by the Conseil du Patrimoine Religieux du Québec to cover 70% of upcoming maintenance costs for the Church. We have sent a special appeal to descendants and people in the Community to help raise the rest of the money needed to realize these very necessary maintenance tasks. Every donation is eligible for a tax receipt and any amount is greatly appreciated and needed.

We are particularly grateful to the various Ministries within the Quebec government who have shown interest and support in the culture and historic value of this property, as well as many friends and neighbours.

We would like to encourage others to help us meet our financial goal so that this historic property can be maintained for its unique and iconic contributions to the community.
